It is hoped that the publication of this journal will give a new impetus to statistical inquiries in India, and be the means of spreading exact information upon questions on which Indian publicists and statesmen are now nonstantly at fault from the want of it. The most manifest defeat probably in our administrative system is the fact that there is not a district in the empire the exact position and resources of which are known to us. The very first condition of successful administration is thus wanting. In Orisan, the other day, a narrow export of 30,000 tons of rice from a province containing 8,000,000 of people growing nothing but rice, was held to be conclusive proof that large fond reserves existed in the province, while a very brief statistical inquiry would have shown that so narrow an export in the face of the high prices that bad neen roling for years, proved that the province was normally treading on the verge of famine. There are no satisfactory statistics at present in India upon any subject but its trade, while such as do exist are buried in the recesses of the Scoreturiats, or in the Appendices to Parliamentary Returns, out of reach of the public. Long familiarity with the kind of information wanted, the sources from which it is to be obtained, and the shape in which it requires to be presented, furnished the Editor, as he himself balleves, with special qualifications for the task he has undertaken. Om latest information is to the effect that Mr. Brooking was in a composed and hopeful condition. GENERAL SHERMANIN RICHMOND -The Richmond (Va.) State lournal of April 30th, mentions that a number of prominent gentlemen, without regard to politics, called upon General Sherman at his rooms in the Spotswood Hotel, were introdirect, and cordially received by the distinguish. cd chief of the army. The General looks remarkably, well, is quite accessible, trank and Aithen, Commander, will have quite dispatch pleasant in his munners, and conversed with as above. great freedom upon all topics that were brought. up. He paid General Cauby a high compliment anid he was un older soldier binin himself, laiving untered the army in 1830; that he posressed good administrative abilities, a wellinlapoed wind, the highest order of intelligenee-and he thought he would please us very much. "He is just the man for you, and I think you will like him," and Tecumseh. " and be in all right." He left last evening for Washington on the S.E train. The General expressed his gratification at the many evidences he had seen n and about the city, and along his line of

The counterfeit wines sold in the British market usually contain five or ten per cent, of the genuine article, which has a peculiar flavor that cannut be imitated satisfactorily without a little of the wine. The mixtures are made differently according to their destination, and it is well settled among Frenchmen that less of the wine THOSE very desirable Business Premite and more of the adulterating compounds are required for the market of New York than for that of Loudon.

The European ports and sherries are not juice. At least 1,000,000 gallons of distilled in making port wine for exportation. The port which the Portuguese drink is a dry wine, and numerous chemicals, some of them classed as poisonous, are poured in. And yet for every gallon of port shipped from the harbors of Buildings, each two storied, and suitable for Portugal, ten or twenty gallons are drank under the name of port in England and in the United States. These facts are notorious: and we have never been able to understand how intelligent people in the United States can drink the ligger that is sold as Portuguese port, when they have in the Californian port a MIWO OFFICES in the Hongkong Hotel drink which is not only pure—as pure as any Apply for further strong asset wine can be—but is in flavor, to Hongkong Hotel Office. our taste at least, count to the best of the genuine produce of the vineyards of the Oporto
